We look forward to you joining us at our club in Rangiora!

Membership Information

Welcome! The club is based at Rangiora Airfield and has its own clubrooms, along with two large hangars which are available for rent to club members. The clubrooms are available for you to use at all times, and you can even stay overnight if needed.

Vehicle Access

All vehicles must be parked in the designated carpark, just off the access road. Please keep vehicles off-field, and do not park on a taxiway.

Hangars

Places in the two club hangars are available for rental to club members at $150 per month. Due to demand, there may not always be a space available when required.

Aircraft Operations

Three club Tecnam P92's are available for training and solo flights. Due to training demand, there are only limited options to hire them for extended periods, so please check with your instructor. Your instructor will also brief you on all the procedures required for the safe and correct operation of our aircraft.

Club aircraft must be booked through the online system with all details filled in. All use of the aircraft is to be entered in the flight log in the hangar, and payment should be made immediately, either by cash into the safe, or (preferably) by internet banking .

Solo flights may not be carried out in the club aircraft unless authorised by an instructor. You should record the details of all flights on the whiteboard, and also tell somebody where you are going and when you expect to return.

All pilots should carry a cellphone, and have the numbers of the clubrooms, the CFI, the President and Secretary in case of an emergency.

Any damage to the club aircraft should be reported immediately to either the CFI or Safety Officer, and a placard placed on the aircraft advising that it is not available for service.

Governing Body

Microlights in New Zealand are governed by "Part 149" Organisations delegated by the Civil Aviation Authority of New Zealand (CAA), and our club is affiliated to the Recreational Aircraft Association of New Zealand (RAANZ). Information about RAANZ can be found on their website - www.raanz.org.nz.

As an alternative, new members may wish to join the Sport Aviation Corp Ltd (SAC). You can discuss this option with your instructor. Information about SAC can be found on their website - www.sportflying.co.nz

Learning To Fly

All our instructors operate as volunteers, so please respect their time. it is a privilege to receive flight training, not a right. The instructor charges $30 for ground instruction ($50 for x-country) per lesson . This is paid separately from the aircraft rental and should be arranged with your instructor.

What You Need

The first thing you need to do is to book a trial flight. Contact one of the instructors listed below and arrange a time, and you will get to fly the aircraft.

Once you have decided that you want to learn to fly, there are a few things that need to be arranged:

- Have your GP complete the Medical Certificate for you, and complete the Fit & Proper Person Declaration. Give the completed forms to your instructor at your next lesson.
- Your Instructor will then arrange for a Microlight Pilot's Certificate to be issued by your chosen Part 149 Organisation. At this stage, you will need to join the club (annual subscription $90, with a one-off joining fee of $30) and also either RAANZ (annual subscription $70) or SAC (annual subscription $100).
- You will also need to purchase both a Pilot's Logbook and a Pilot's Training Manual.

Scheduling Lessons

Lessons should be arranged with your chosen Instructor. Please be aware that our Instructors have busy lives too, and may not always be available. Weather will also be a factor – for example, we do not normally fly in strong Northwesterers! Your Instructor will record your progress in your logbook which you should bring to each lesson.

What It Costs

You will pay for time in the aircraft, plus ground instruction ( a donation for your instructor's time of $30 ) . The current hourly charge is $140 although this may change if fuel prices increase substantially).

On average a student may take 10 -15 hours to go solo, so the likely cost is around $1500 - $2000.

It is expected that your payment for the hire of the club aircraft be paid within 3-4 days of the flight & is Direct Credited to the club account Canterbury Recreational Aircraft Club 03-1594-0061058-000
